

THAW CASE
DECIDED BY GOVERNOR

Honors Requisition of the State of New York
for Extradition

HABEAS CORPUS WRIT

In Behalf of Thaw Will Now Be Transferred to the Federal Courts—Prisoner Not Present When Decision Was Announced.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Concord, N. H., Nov. 8.—Governor Feltner today honored the requisition of the state of New York for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw. The case is now transferred automatically to the federal courts where a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Thaw is pending.

The governor based his decision on the indictment returned against Thaw in New York county which charged him with conspiracy to escape from the insane asylum at Ma-tineau, N. Y., to which he was committed after his second trial for the killing of Stanford White. Thaw made his sensational flight on Aug.
17 and a few days later was arrested near Coaticook, Canada.

Thaw's attorneys announced that they would immediately file an amendment to their petition for a writ of habeas corpus, application for which was made soon after Thaw was arrested in this state following his deportation from Canada.
The original petition was based on the allegation that Thaw was indicted for conspiracy by the Dutchess county grand jury and it was suspended pending the governor's decision upon the matter of extradition.

Because the extradition has now been granted on the strength of the New York county indictment it will be necessary to amend the petition accordingly.

Thaw was not present when Governor Feltner announced his decision to the attorneys representing the fugitive and the state of New York at the capital.

Thaw will remain here in the custody of State Marshal Nute and Sheriff Drew pending the federal proceedings.

In granting the extradition, Governor Feltner said in part:
"By the petition of Governor Glynn and the accompanying papers, it appears that the grand jury inquest of the county of New York has duly returned into open court, an indictment against Mr. Thaw. That is sufficient to warrant the arrest, arraignment and trial of the respondent, if he may be found within the state wherein the indictment is pending. It is, furthermore, sufficient to establish that Mr. Thaw is —if found in any state or county while such indictment is pending, a fugitive from justice.

The provisions of the federal investigation and the acts of congress enacted to give force and effect thereto as construed by the court of last resort upon such matter, limit me to the consideration of the question (1) Whether the person demanded has substantially been charged with crime and (2) Whether he is a fugitive from justice. Such was the decision of the Supreme court of the United States in the most recent case wherein a sister state demanded of New Hampshire the interstate rendition of a person within her border.—(Muncy vs.
Clough, 196 U. S. 372, decided in 1903.)

"In that case it was decided by unanimous court that the proceedings in matters of this kind before the governor are summary in their nature. . . . The person demanded has no constitutional right to be heard before the governor on either question and the statute provides for none. To hold otherwise would in many cases render the constitutional

WANTS CONGRESS TO PUT BAN ON
"MELON CUTTING"

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 8.—"Melon Cutting" by stockholders of large railway corporations has gone on long enough undisturbed by congress in the opinion of Representative Sims of Tennessee, who is preparing a bill to put a stop to the practice. Mr.
Sims plans to introduce his measure at the next session of congress in December and believes it will meet with the approval of the majority of members.

The measure will propose that any interstate carrier or other corporation engaged in interstate traffic must so before the interstate commerce commission and ask permission before distributing new bonds or stocks. The commission is to make a careful investigation to ascertain that there is due warrant for the proposed issue and to see that it is sold to the highest bidder and the proceeds used for betterment and improvement of property.

Bramwell Booth of Salvation Army Ready for Reconciliation With Volunteers

Bramwell Booth, now chief of the Salvation Army, who has just arrived in the United States, is ready for a reconciliation with his brother, Sir Bramwell Booth, head of the Volunteers of America.

The two great organizations, which have been kept apart largely through the difference between members of the Booth family, may thus get together. This is what Bramwell Booth had to say when he was asked about the possibilities of a reconciliation with his brother which would prob-

INDICTMENTS
AGAINST MAYOR
OF CENTERBURG

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Mt. Vernon, O., Nov. 8.—A sensation was occasioned here today by the grand jury reporting indictments against Frank A. Grandie, druggist, and Doctors Waldo B. Merriman and Sylvester R. Best, physicians, all of Centerburg. Grandie was named in four true bills of two counts each for unlawful sale of intoxicating liquor and failing to keep a correct record of same. Merriman, in five indictments, and Best, in three indictments, are charged with unlawful issuing of prescriptions for intoxicating liquors.

Dr. Best is prominent in political circles and is mayor of Centerburg.
Mr. Grandie was a former resident of Newark and until a few years ago conducted a drug store in the room just east of the Elliott Hardware store. He went to Centerburg after closing the store here.

ANTI-SALOON
LEADER FILES
MORE PROTESTS

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Cleveland, Nov. 8.—Superintendent John S. Rutledge of the Anti-Saloon league, here, today made formal protest against eleven of the licenses recently granted to Cleveland saloon-keepers by the Cuyahoga county license board.

Leading the list of licenses protested is that of Michael Castriano, who is now under trial for trial in federal court under two charges of violating the internal revenue laws and one of shooting at his brother with intent to kill.

PROF. W. O. MILLER
DIES TODAY AFTER
2 YEARS SUFFERING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Columbus, Nov. 8.—Prof. W. O.
Miller, late instructor in Otterbein University, died today at his home in Westerville, after suffering for two years from Bright's disease.

Prof. Miller graduated from Otterbein college in the class of 1888, afterwards teaching in West Virginia Wesleyan college. In 1897 he returned to Westerville, occupying the chair of physics and astronomy at Otterbein.

He was 52 years of age and is survived by a widow, five children, one brother, F. E. Miller of Richmond, Indiana, and three sisters, Miss Mary A.
Miller and Miss Alice Miller, both of New Paris, and Mrs. M. A. Hahn of Westerville.

INTRUDER IN BEDROOM

Woman Awakens to Find
Prowler Standing Over
Her Bed—Yeggs Frightened Away at Grocery Return Later.

Mrs. B. F. McDonald, wife of the attorney having offices in the Hibbert & Schuss building, awoke with a start, Friday night, to see in the dim light of the room a strange man standing silently over her, in her home, 305 Hudson avenue. The intruder, too, was frightened, for as Mrs. McDonald jumped to her feet from the opposite side of the bed, the man ran out of her room so fast he nearly fell as he broke for the stairway. He took nothing from the house.

Despite her fright, Mrs. McDonald stepped to the door of the bedroom, flashed on the electric light, which illuminated the entire first floor of the residence, then bolted the door and screamed out the window for help. Fearing the intruder still might be in the house, Mrs. Mc-Donald waited at the open window until her neighbor, Mrs. O'Hara, wife of Dr. C. D. O'Hara, dentist, had telephoned a call to headquarters and a squad of policemen had arrived in the patrol wagon.

The intruder had made his escape apparently by a front door. Although the door is equipped with a combination lock, he had tried to use a skeleton key which was found in the lock by police. Nothing was disturbed in the house, and it is believed the fellow was making a round of inspection before starting on a robbery.

A crude burglar's jimmy was found by police just outside an opened rear window, which had been forced from the bottom, breaking the cast window lock commonly used in residences.

A footprint on the ground beneath the raised window in regarded with significance by the police, while Mrs. McDonald's statement that the intruder walked noiselessly, would strengthen the belief that he wore rubbers.

Mrs. McDonald described the fellow as being very short in stature and possessing a head of thick fluffy hair. She said he appeared to be bareheaded.

The burglary at the McDonald home was one of four committed Friday night and the police department has been kept busy investigating the various cases.

The other victims of the burglars were George Maybold's shoe store, Hudson avenue; George Benner's grocery, Second and Canal streets, and the saloon of Otto Gruber in the rear of 150 Boriston street.

The sum total of articles taken from the various places, indicated that the men sought money rather than merchandise. Though there was plenty of stuff for them in any one of the places entered, they were satisfied with a very small quantity of merchandise.

The intruder entered the McDonald home under circumstances which lead to the opinion that he may have been skilled in his line. Not only was it but a few minutes after 8 o'clock, but lights were burning in the house.
From the den on the first floor, a gas light shed its rays into the room adjoining, making it possible to see clear through the house from the front or rear first floor windows. A light also burned in the bath room on the second floor.

Mrs. McDonald and her seven-year-old son, George, had retired about 7:30. The child occupied a trundle bed in the room occupied by his mother, and was badly frightened when the stranger's presence became known.
Mrs. McDonald was absent from the home, being engaged with business at his office, but had been momentarily expected home. Mrs. McDonald thought it was her husband, when she heard someone walking on the stairs.
She went to sleep again, and was next awakened when the man stopped beside her bed and was looking around the room.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Wheeling, W. Va., Nov. 8.—J. F.
Whaley of East McKeesport, Pa., who is said to have been known throughout the country as "John the Tramp," will be given a decent burial as public spirited women of Wheeling have raised a purse of $100 to defray funeral expenses. Whaley's body was found several days ago and identification was made only yesterday. He died from exposure.

Government Is Awaiting Absolute and Final Answer
From Provisional Pres. Huerta

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Washington, Nov. 8.—No announcements were made either at the White House or state department today as to the progress of the negotiations being conducted by Charge O'Shaughnessy and John Lind in Mexico City to bring about the retirement of Huerta.

Though there have been intimations that Huerta would reject the American demands the next step is dependent on the receipt of absolute and final answer. In the meantime diplomatic pressure from many quarters is being brought to bear with hope for the success of the negotiations.

CARRANZA OPTIMISTIC.
(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Nogales, Sonora, Nov. 8.—General Venustiano Carranza appears unusually optimistic today regarding the success of the constitutionalist revolution.

Dispatches from his agents in Washington and New York indicated that official Washington wanted to know the exact extent and strength of the insurrection against the Huerta government. This Carranza and his followers interpreted as strong intimation that the Wilson administration was considering recognition of the insurgents.

Such action the rebel chief considers, would insure the success of the revolution and he asserted he could put one hundred thousand men into the field.

Strike at Indianapolis
Has Been Settled and Car Service Resumes Today

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 8.—For the first time in seven days the people of Indianapolis heard the hum of motors and clang of the bells of street cars this morning as the service, interrupted by the strike of the employees of the Indianapolis Traction & Terminal Company was resumed. Before daylight the first cars left the barns as usual before the walkout of the men, and by the time that the majority of the workers started downtown nearly normal schedules were being maintained.

President Robert I. Todd of the street railway company announced last night that on some lines it would probably be several days before the former service could be restored, but upon the lines where the heaviest traffic is handled the service would be the same as before the strike.

The settlement made through the governor will not be final until the grievances of the men are adjusted by the Statehouse Utilities Commission, but the decision is to be binding as a contract for three years.

The strikers were jubilant over what they regard as a big victory in forcing the company to permit an outside body to pass on their demands for higher wages and better hours, but the agreement absolves the company from recognition of the union, and does not make any provision as to what the wages and the hours of service shall be.

The company agrees to take up the differences with its men within five days after the resumption of service and submit them to the Utilities Commission at the end of 15 days if it is unable to reach a settlement. The Utilities Commission shall determine all questions placed before it at the end of 30 days after hearing all of the evidence presented.

The company shall reinstate all of its men except those who were guilty of acts of violence during the strike.

Fearing violence, interurban cars continued this morning to run to the city limits only. When labor officials at the temple heard of this at noon, a resolution appointing committees of labor men to meet the interurban cars at the city limits, assure the crews there would be no interference and escort the cars into the city was adopted. It is expected that the interurban cars will be operating into the terminal station before night.

Whom credit is given for settling the street car strike, conferred with labor leaders regarding the interurban situation this morning. After the conference he issued a statement in which he said he had told the men that the interurban employees had a right to organize and seek an agreement for better wages, but that he would not permit any interference with the interurban cars.

Five Thousand Members of Central Ohio Associa-

NUMBER OF ADDRESSES

By Prominent Educators
Made at Today's Session Which Will Close With Election of Officers.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Dayton, Nov. 8.—Five thousand Ohio school teachers gave a hearty endorsement to Governor Cox's school day movement for November 14 in the meeting of the Central Ohio Association, which closed here on Saturday afternoon. Every township in the state promises to rail in line with the governor's plans.

The road was frowned upon in an address by Inspector James L.
Hughes of the Toronto, Ontario, schools. He urged that school children be given plenty of time for play.
Dr. Horace L. Brittain, who has made a school survey in Ohio, was a speaker. He complimented the state because it had a governor who was so enthusiastic over school conditions, and declared that a survey of the Buckeye state schools had disclosed the fact that many things need to be corrected. Dr. Brittain deplored the fact that so many school teachers had taken to running street cars because there was more financial reward.

At Saturday's meeting Superintendent Potter of the St. Paul, Minn., school spoke on "Socializing Our School Life" and Principal W. D.
Lewis of the William Penn High School for Girls in Philadelphia, spoke on "The School and the Citizens."

The election of officers late today will close the sessions.
Columbus will likely get the next convention.

Edwin J. Brown, superintendent of the Dayton schools, was chosen president; Miss Elizabeth O'Grady of Lancaster, secretary and the following executive committee named for the coming year at the closing session: Charles W. Cookson, Troy, O.; J. D. Harter, Columbus, and William H. Rice, London.

The association adopted a report endorsing the plan to federate the six sectional teachers' organizations of the state with the Ohio Teachers' Institute.

EXPECT VERDICT
IN THE BEILISS
TRIAL TOMORROW

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM)
Kiev, Russia, Nov. 8.—The jury is expected to return its verdict tomorrow in the trial of Mendel Beiliss for the alleged murder of the Christian, Andrew Yushinsky, in March, 1911.
Speeches of counsel were finished today. M. Gruzenberg, one of the attorneys for the defense, opened the day's proceedings by arguing that Beiliss was being made a scapegoat for the mistakes of the officials who conducted the preliminary investigation. The lawyer did not mince his words in referring to the Vera Tobolskaya band of criminals. He said he was convinced of their guilt, for "all roads of evidence led to Vera Tobolskaya and not to the brickwork-ed where Beiliss had been employed." Activities of the anti-Semitic "black hundred" continued without cessation.
Their society, "the two-headed eagle," issued today an assertion that the Jews had spent $500,000 during the trial, the receipts of the money including counsel, the press, the police and witnesses.

NEW KING TAKES

Munich, Nov. 8.—Ludwig III., the new king of Bavaria, who reigned the late King Otto, took the oath today in the throne room of the palace, with the simple formula prescribed by the Bavarian constitution.

The new king had previously delivered a short speech. All the princes of the House of Wittelsbach, to which the king belongs, the Bavarian ministers and deputations from the two houses of the Bavarian parliament, witnessed the ceremony which was followed by a salute of 10 guns.

NEW REMEDY SAVES OLD FOLKS FROM KIDNEY AND BLADDER MISERIES

Deep, distressing bladder weakness, Backache, Stiff Joints, Rheumatic Pains Disappear After Few Doses Are Taken.

While people along in years are naturally more subject to weak kidneys, they can easily avoid the tortures of backache and rheumatism, and be saved the annoyance of getting up at night with disagreeable bladder disorders.

Crozone promptly overcomes all such troubles by making the kidneys filter the blood properly and sift out the poisonous acids and waste matter that cause these troubles.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up, inactive kidneys, dissolves and drives out the uric acid and other poisonous impurities that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause rheumatism. It neutralizes the urine so it no longer irritates the bladder, overcoming unnecessary breaking of sleep and helps the kidneys and bladder regain health and strength.

If matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what else you have used, it is practically impossible to take this quick-acting, effective preparation without immediate results. It starts to work the minute you take it—the first time you use it. An original package of Crozone costs but a trifle, and all druggists are authorized to return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.

OHIO FOOTBALL

Columbus, Nov. 8.—With two of the strongest teams of the state—Ohio State and Mount Union—battling for gridiron honors in other sections of the country, Ohio football enthusiasts will have to look elsewhere for thrills this afternoon. The Mount Union players, with a seven to nothing victory over Case tucked under their belts, will meet the Michigan Aggies, who are claiming the western championship, at Lansing, Mich. There is little doubt that the Michigan team will not come out of the contest a victor.

In Ohio, no games are scheduled which are likely to entangle further the race of the state championship, in which Ohio State and Oberlin are tied. One of the big games of the day will be fought out at Oberlin between Oberlin and Western Reserve. Coach Snyder's team which staved off defeat last Saturday at the hands of the Cincinnati team by a narrow margin, is picked as a winner of the contest.

Handicapped by the loss of their captain, Quarterback Little, through the ineligibility route, Ohio Wesleyan's chances of holding Case to a low score were greatly reduced, critics declare. In the southern part of the state, Cincinnati will entertain the Denison squad, Marietta players will be pitted against those from Ohio Northern and the Ohio university combination will face the Miami eleven. Other games to be played in Ohio today are Wittenberg at Otterbein and Kenyon at Wooster.

IN WESTERN CONFERENCE

Chicago, Nov. 8.—With relative standings off at stake in the football games played today by teams in the western conference, coaches and players looked forward to decisive battles a week hence. Most of the teams played today with only a part of the strength usually displayed.

Minnesota, badly crippled, did not play. Indiana without Captain Davis, put forward a weak team against the University of Iowa. Ohio State, a newcomer in the western conference, sent a well conditioned team against Wisconsin which is severely battered from two hard struggles.

Chicago expected an easy victory over Northwestern. Purdue played a revived Rose Polytechnic team and Illinois rested.

In the Missouri Valley conference, the Drake-Missouri game was the center of interest.

On nearly every gridiron of the middle west, men were saved for what are considered more important games later in the month.

FIGHT IN 16 YEARS

Philadelphia, Nov. 8.—Dartmouth and the University of Pennsylvania met in football today for the first time in 16 years. Supporters of both teams were confident of the ability of their respective eleven to win a victory which they declared would put them in line for the football championship.

HARVARD WINS FROM THE FAST PRINCETON 11

(Associated Press Telegram)
University Field, Princeton, N. J., Nov. 8.—A field goal by Brickley in the second period gave Harvard a victory over Princeton on University field today by the score of 3 to 0. A blocked kick from Law's team opened the way for the only score of the game, Harvard recovering the ball almost in front of the Tiger goal posts and only a short distance away. Princeton outplayed Harvard in the first period, the Crimson line running at the Princeton attack. In the second period, however, Harvard began to show her strength and easily held the Tigers when they became dangerous.

Both teams resorted to much punting. The rain fell during the first half of the game and the field was a sea of mud.

In the last part of the game each side tried field goals, Baker and Brickley making the endeavors, but both failed to make the ball carry to the posts. It was a clear game, fairly well played considering the conditions. Harvard assumed the offensive in the last part of the game and with one or two exceptions her goal was not in danger.

(Associated Press Telegram)
Princeton, N. J., Nov. 8.—Under weather conditions that were not the best, Harvard and Princeton met this afternoon in their annual football battle. Rain fell quite heavily several times during the forenoon and at 1 p. m. after the ground keepers finished removing the straw from the gridiron there was another heavy shower. The few spectators on the field at that time huddled under their umbrellas. The down-pour was soon over and things brightened up. Then the crowd came pouring into the big enclosure from the four corners of the field.

Harvard was the favorite as the teams lined up for the fray. The team had done well so far this season and the Princeton squad realized that it would have to play a tremendous game to win. Harvard's coaches, however, expected to resort to much open play to gain ground against Harvard's superior line work.

Score and first period: Princeton 0; Harvard 0. Time was called at the end of the first period with the ball on Harvard's 40-yard line. All during the first quarter, the play was in Harvard's territory except when the ball was punted back into Princeton ground. Law out-punted Hardwick in this period and Princeton made three first downs and Harvard none. It was teaming, rain when the teams opened the second quarter.

Harvard lost one yard trying Princeton's center. Brickley settled back as if for a field goal but Harvard fooled the Tigers and made a line plunge for two yards. Then Brickley dropped back and kicked an easy field goal from Princeton's 20-yard line.

Score second period: Harvard, 3; Princeton, 0.

Summary first half: Harvard was outplayed in the first quarter by Princeton, the Cambridge team developed more strength in the second quarter.

During the first period the Harvard line melted before the fierce attacks of Princeton, gains being made for ten yards through the center and tackles of the visiting players.

In the second period, Harvard seemed to put themselves together and took some of the speed and force out of the Princeton attack. The three points scored on Brickley's field goal were made possible by fumble and a slippy ball by Law, well down in his territory. Harvard recovered the ball and it appeared to be a question of a few plays before Harvard would make a score. Brickley's field goal was an easy one. Rain fell heavily during the most of the first half of the game.

The field was a sea of mud and the players were soaked to the skin and black with dirt. The sky cleared and the sun shone beautifully when the second period ended.

Much of the third period was taken up with punting. Princeton tried several forward passes and two of them were successful. Harvard's secondary defense was much in evidence.

Score and third period—Harvard 3; Princeton 0.

The Carl L. Reynard Concert company, composed of two men who claim Newark as their home, and a third who is also an Ohioan, is rehearsing here in anticipation of the season's concert tour which the company will inaugurate within a few weeks.

The organization is composed of Carl H. Reynard, tenor, for the two past seasons associated with the American Operatic concert company, Howard Jackson, violinist in the Auditorium theater orchestra the last season, and Floyd H. Rogers, of Alliance, pianist. The latter was associated with Mr. Reynard in vaudeville four years ago.

It is the expectation of the members of the company to tour this season, and go to Berlin next year for study. Mr. Reynard has been studying during the summers with a celebrated Illinois vocalist, and appearing in concert during the regular season.

WOMAN TELLS HOW CLAIRVOYANT GOT $15,500 EASY MONEY

(Associated Press Telegram)
Chicago, Nov. 8.—Mrs. Hope L. McDowney of New Salem, Wis., continuing her testimony today at the trial of "Prof." Crane and "Barney" Bertsche, alleged clairvoyant swindlers, told how Crane used his "wonderful supernatural powers" to rob her of $15,500.

"He said that besides business experience he was gifted with a God-given power of the prescience."

"He said that if he had misused the gift he would lose it. He paid me every attention—theatres, flowers, automobile rides—and appeared a perfect gentleman and when he asked me to marry him I accepted. He gave me a diamond ring and took me to look at an expensive automobile which he said he was going to buy for me."

ODD WEDDING GIFT FOR MISS WILSON

(Associated Press Telegram)
Middletown, Conn., Nov. 8.—Maynard T. Hazen, who was a college mate of Francis B. Sayre at Williams, has sent an odd wedding gift to Miss Jessie Wilson at the White House. It is a book bound in white morocco and entitled "A Wedding Log." The book contains drawings and verses with blank spaces for recording the details of the wedding, the gifts and the names of the guests.

The book is the work of Mrs. Lucia Hazen Webster, a cousin of Mr. Hazen.

BADLY INJURED IN A FOOTBALL GAME

(Associated Press Telegram)
Bainbridge, Mass., Nov. 8.—Three hours after Harry Allen, 17 years old, half back for the Bainbridge High school football team, had scored the only touchdown for his eleven in a game with Thayer Academy yesterday, he fell unconscious. A physician who worked over the boy for two hours before bringing him back to consciousness, found a slight concussion of the brain and a strained ligament of the neck. He said Young Allen was in a critical condition, but might recover.

STATE OFFICERS RURAL CARRIERS MEETING IN CITY

An executive meeting of the Ohio Rural Mail Carriers is being held at the Sherwood Hotel this afternoon, with all the state officers in attendance.

These meetings are held once a year and the work for the ensuing 12 months is planned. Most of the business to come before the meeting today is the making of arrangements for the state convention which will be held in Newark, beginning the first Tuesday in August, in 1914.

The state officers present are: President, P. J. Power of Gibsonburg; vice president, Levi Hoy of Wauseon; treasurer, T. J. Parker of Bainbridge; secretary, R. E. Radecliffe of Kenton; executive committee, L. I. Fisher, Grove City, H. T. Smiley of Cadiz, Isaac Culp of Columbiana and H. J. Morrison of Fremont.

Those in attendance at the meeting will be entertained this evening at a banquet at the Second Presbyterian church. The Licking county organization is also entertaining the members of the executive board of the Ohio Central Association of Letter Carriers. Of the Licking county organization D. A. Bricker of Utica is president; Harry Norman of Toboso, vice president, and H. H. Nichols of Newark, secretary. The officers of the Central Association are D. A. Bricker of Utica, president, and L. T. Fisher of Grove City, secretary.

Over 500 delegates are expected to attend the convention here 1914.

RACING GAME IS ON THE LEVEL (?) NOT ALWAYS

(Associated Press Telegram)
New York, Nov. 8.—One hundred thousand dollars for making an affidavit in the investigation that followed the defeat of Lou Dillon, the famous trotting mare, by Major Delmar at Memphis in 1911, is demanded by George W. Spear, Major Delmar's trainer, in suit filed today against C. K. G. Billings, Lou Dillon's owner.

In his suit, Spear recites that he made an affidavit that a conspiracy existed between the trainer of Lou Dillon and the trainers of Major Delmar, owned by Elmer E. Smathers, providing that Lou Dillon should be beaten. After the ride Billings claimed that his mare had been tampered with, and substantiated his claim with Spear's affidavit. Spear alleges that he made the affidavit only after Billings had agreed to make good any loss Spear might sustain by being blacklisted by the National Trotting association. From May, 1906, till May, 1913, Spear alleges, the association refused to permit him to train or drive horses. Because of this and other restrictions, Spear charges, he has sustained damages in the sum asked for. Billings, he charges, has paid him nothing.

FOUR BRIDGES ARE BURNED ON BRANCH LINE

(Associated Press Telegram)
Walsenburg, Col., Nov. 8.—Four bridges on the branch of the Denver and Rio Grande between the Churchmans Junction and the main line, were destroyed on fire early today. This branch carried to the main line the output of the Route & Letter mines, both properties of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company. The Route mine is one of the largest properties of the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company in this section.

With these bridges burned the output cannot be marketed.

Uncle Walt's Philosophy

V. V.'s Eyes.

A man wrote a novel named "Queed," a volume most charming, indeed. It was witty and sweet, and a hard one to read, a book that all people must read. And the people, they gladly prized and purchased that volume of his, till the publishers smiled over the money they said, and the booksellers, murmured "why, what?" Then the author, he said, through his hat, "I will write something better than that! A book that's profound, with a moral so sound it will jar up the phyllo-craft!" So he wrote, about Vivian's Eyes, a book that's supposed to be wise, but it fills me with weep for it's dreary and slow, and flat as our boarding house pie! I grumble and groan as I read, surprised that the author of "Queed," a book that's a peach—should rear up and preach, when humor's the stuff that we need.

And here is a man who can make you laugh till your innards will ache; he sidetracks his gift in order to drift around in the mud with his rake. He should be arrested and fined for using his wonderful mind to turn out a book, or a sermon, gadzooks, that any old been could grind. Get back to your base, gifted man! Pursue your original plan! Help people to smile and get rid of their bile, and cheer up the world while you can!

Seven Wonders of the World

We have no indication of the existence of a cycle of seven wonders until about the end of the second century B. C. Then appears in an epigram of Antipater of Sidon an enumeration of seven great works, which prove to be the seven wonders. They are: (1) the walls of Babylon, (2) the statue of Zeus at Olympia, (3) the hanging gardens of Semiramis at Babylon, (4) the Colossus of Rhodes, (5) the pyramids of Memphis, (6) the mausoleum of Halicarnassus, (7) the temple of Diana at Ephesus. Within the next century Varro, by his legendary allusion to the septem opera, betrays that the saying had already assumed current proverbial form. Diodorus, in the second half of the same century (first B. C.), speaks, too, of "the so-called seven works," and Strabo, a little later, uses the very phrase, "the seven wonders." From this time on, at least, the septem miracula have an assured place in all the common lore of Rome.

On Second Thought

Writers of Historic Songs.

Most of the songs that have made history were written by men who had no other claim to immortality. The "Marseillaise" is the only production of Rouget de Lisle which has survived, and "The Wreath of the Olive" was the work of an anonymous purveyor of ballads for the street hawkers of Berlin. Max Schreckengaster, an obscure Swabian merchant, who never published anything else, composed in 1849 some verses of which the burden was thus translated:

Dear fatherland, no danger thine, Firm stand the sons to watch the Rhine.
Little was heard of these until thirty years later, when the Franco-German war gave them an enormous vogue. They were then adopted as the national anthem of United Germany, and a yearly pension of 3,000 marks was conferred on the composer of the tune to which they were set.—London Chronicle.

As a Curiosity.

"Mother's compliments," said a rounder recently to a certain butcher who kept a shop in a busy suburban thoroughfare, "and she sent me to show you the big bone brought with the piece of beef this morning."

"Tell your mother next time I'll be a book without bones in it. I'll make her a present of a piglet," said the man of meat.

"Mother's compliments," continued the boy, "and she says next time you find a bit of skin with a shouder of mutton bone in it, she'd like to buy the whole carcass as a curiosity."—Ex-change.

The coldest inhabited town in the world is Verkhansk, in Northeast Siberia, where the maximum in winter is 55 degrees below zero. A sure way of curing husbands who complain of the softness of the butter in summer is to exclaim at every complaint, "Well, let's move to Verkhansk!"

It is estimated that if all the cats in the country were placed on a single back fence at night, it couldn't sound any worse than it sounds sometimes.

It is the woman who never has one who knows how a child should be reared.

From your standpoint, the best newspaper is the one that most nearly caters to your prejudices.

As compared with a musical criticism written by a regular critic, the foreign languages are easy enough to understand.

The father of a twelve-pound baby always construes the weight of his offspring as a distinction. Wherein, we desire to ask, is a twelve-pound baby superior to an eight-pound baby? Or a six-pound baby?

Mrs. Eph Wiley says some of the gowns worn by the women are disgraceful. Mr. Wiley doesn't go as far as that. He says all there is to it is that some women are better and more extensive advertisers than others.

The smartest confidence operator often fails in his efforts to sell a gold bangle. But an attractive blonde woman can always dispose of it.

When a man sets out to tell a story he proceeds by the most direct route. But a woman backs up to it.

The favorite theory of every woman who is well taken care of by her husband is that she lives in a gilded cage.

The average mother-in-law not only is pleasant and agreeable, but she usually takes her son-in-law's side of it.

minister of public works, but also the head of the postal department, and in addition an active officer in the army, and in his intervals of leisure practiced his profession of civil engineer.

When asked to give his impressions of North America, Dr. Mueller made a gesture indicating an utter inability to compass the subject. New York he considered wonderful, but San Francisco and Los Angeles scarcely less so, and he was enthusiastic as to the effect the Panama-Pacific exposition would have in cementing the relations between the northern and southern continents.

Baron Nathan Mayer Rothschild, head of the English branch of the world's only billionaire dynasty, was born in Piccadilly, London, seventy-three years ago today. The great financier is twice a baron, holding that title in the peerage of both the United Kingdom and Austria. He was educated at Cambridge, and for twenty years he was a member of the House of Commons. He has a magnificent city mansion in Piccadilly, and a vast country estate, Tring Park in Hertfordshire. Lord Rothschild is noted as a livestock breeder as well as a money king, and for nearly a score of years he has been breeding short-horn cattle at Tring Park, with a view to developing their milking qualities. One cow of his herd has given a ton of milk in four weeks. When his herd becomes too large he auctions the surplus, and many of these prize animals have been sent to the United States and Canada. Lord Rothschild formerly made it a rule never to give interviews to newspapers, but he has lately changed his attitude, and now often receives the representatives of the press. On a recent occasion he expressed the view that Mexico would benefit from annexation by the United States.

Lord Rothschild is now the foremost member of a family which is in possession of wealth to the amount of over $2,000,000. All of the other financial dynasties of the world, such as the Rockefellers, the Astors, the Bierschmids, the Vanderbilts and the Sassons, shrink into insignificance when compared with the Rothschilds. Lord Rothschild, like most of the members of the members of the family, married a relative, the daughter of Baron Charles de Rothschild of Frankfurt. His mother was a daughter of Baron Charles de Rothschild, of the Naples branch of the family.

Wisdom from Washington

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 8.—[Special.]—Executive interference with the legislative branch of the government is an old, but ever recurring subject of discussion. Ever since the establishment of the government, according to students of our legislative history, the president has exerted in one way or another influence upon congress to secure the legislation he desired.

About the most earnest opponent of executive interference in these days is Senator Cummins. The Iowa senator carried his opposition into the New Jersey campaign with severe criticism of President Wilson, for which he was "let down" by the rabid Martine who never fails to come forward and support the president. The discussion that followed in the senate was interesting, but of no real value, save that Senator Williams came forward with a flat refusal to let the president use patronage to influence legislation.

The Indirect Influence.

Of course no one could prove that patronage is used by the president to secure votes for measures, but we know that the indirect influence of patronage has great weight.

"Get in line with the president," is what the farmers back home seeking offices keep saying. Perhaps they use that somewhat sly expression "uphold the hands of the president," which means an almost blind measure. Better to say, "stand in line" with the president. At all events politicians know that members of the president's party in congress who oppose the policies of the president are not likely to find many political plums for their hungry supporters at home. Hence the man who opposes the president finds himself in trouble with his constituents.

Executive Usurpation.

A number of years ago when the Democrats were criticizing the "executive usurpation of Roosevelt," just as the Republicans are now talking about

Board of Trade Notes

Arrangements have now been completed for the meeting of the entire membership of the Board of Trade at the convention room in the courthouse next Tuesday evening and also for the grand public meeting at the Auditorium in the High School Tuesday, Nov. 13. At this latter meeting it is expected that a most interesting, entertaining and instructive occasion will be had and the committee will leave no stone unturned to see to it that it be made a long remembered occasion and from present indications it will be a live wire meeting.

The citizens of Newark will be welcome and it is entirely agreeable for the gentlemen to bring their wives and lady friends but it is most desired that the membership of the board be present. The speaking will be well worth hearing, besides the other features of the meeting and it is probable that the manager will arrange for one prominent out of town speaker. Mr. Wakefield will address the Trades and Labor Assembly Sunday morning and will also start the membership work next week. The roll of members is being revised and as soon as the same can be checked up the full list of paid up members will be published and from time to time the new members will be announced in like manner. The subscription plan will not be put in operation for a little while yet owing to the fact that the manager wishes the organization on its feet more firmly and the new officers elected and by-laws in shape to allow of proper management.

At the Tuesday evening meeting November 11, of members only, the board will ask for the appointment of a committee of five or seven to nominate officers and report at the meeting one week later and also a committee on the public meeting will be appointed. The first issue of the "Ginger Snap" will make its appearance at the Tuesday evening meeting on the eleventh and it will contain much of real interest to the membership. This booklet will be placed at all hotels for free distribution to visitors and also, as soon as a list can be made, sent to all traveling men traveling out of Newark for them to "pass along." The board would appreciate the courtesy if EVERY traveling man living in NEWARK would drop the board a card with his name and address and who he travels for so a record may be kept, and it is desired that all traveling men meet the manager, who wishes to form a special auxiliary association of NEWARK TRAVELING MEN for the good of the men and the city and so if they will kindly write in the facts of this idea will be sent to them and a meeting arranged at a time convenient to the greatest number. Kindly also add the information as to when you are in town.

For over three years ago this month, he has been minister of foreign affairs, the most important post in the Brazilian cabinet. He helped to abolish slavery in the South American republic, and was one of the fathers of the republic and signer of the constitution. Since the overthrow of the empire in 1889, Dr. Mello has been three times the governor of his native state of Santa Catarina, and has served three terms in the house and two in the senate. As premier of the cabinet, he has been a leader in the great movements that have made Brazil one of the most prosperous countries on the map, and Rio de Janeiro one of the world's magnificent capitals.

Dr. Mello is a handsome man, of the intellectual type, and speaks German, French and, with lesser facility, English, as well as the Portuguese of his native land. LOBSTERS FOR THE GIRLS OF GOLDEN WEST

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAMS)

Washington, Nov. 8.—In a few days a refrigerator train will start west carrying 1,000 lobsters. They are being sent by the United States Fish commission, as a gift, on the Atlantic to the Pacific. The purpose is to try to stock the Pacific coast waters, now lacking in this variety of sea food, with fine Maine lobsters.

The lobsters will be placed around the San Juan Islands—Puert Seco, where the fish merchants believe they will thrive. Past efforts have been successful and have failed.

HEALTH HINT FOR TODAY.

Treatment of Burns.

The toxic factor is regarded by many physicians as the most important one to combat when dealing with a case of severe burns. The routine practice is to swab the burnt surface gently with benzine and then to powder it thickly with novocaine powder and to cover it with gauze. No attempt to render the skin absolutely aseptic is made. Morphine and anesthetics are avoided as tending to promote or increase shock.

When pain is very severe an anesthetic powder is also used. This is both antiseptic and anesthetic. The old dressing is removed in a bath when necessary and the process repeated. Disinfectants are given freely, and a great point in the treatment is copious saline infusion, which is stated to have given admirable results. All wet dressings, ointments and sedative drugs are avoided religiously.

Considering the Mexican example, President Wilson is extremely indulgent to "his" congress. Woody lets them talk like they owned themselves, but when it comes to acting that's different.

PROPOSE TO BUILD MODEL CENTRALIZED SCHOOL OF STATE

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Columbus, Nov. 2.—Whether Ohio shall have a model centralized township school and community social center may depend on the residents of Shawnee township, Allen county, who will vote within 30 days on a $75,000 bond issue to build this school. W. B. Berryman, a farmer and real estate dealer of that township, and member of the board of education, conferred with the state superintendent of instruction, Frank W. Miller, today, regarding plans for the school which probably will be used as a model by all other community schools built in the state during the next few years.

This proposed building would accommodate 500 children and would take the place of nine other buildings now maintained in Allen county. Instead of having nine teachers to instruct in all subjects the new plan would allow the employment of teachers for special subjects. Manual training, domestic science and scientific agriculture would be taught. The building and grounds would be supplied with tennis courts, a gymnasium and an auditorium for neighborhood gatherings.

Shawnee township where the proposed model school may be built, is said to be the richest township in the state. Its tax duplicate shows property valued at more than $9,000,000. Mr. Berryman told Superintendent Miller today.

The Courts

Equity Suit.
Petition for the sale of property and distribution of equities in two lots in Kirtlandville, part of the estate of Harvey T. Turner, who died in 1909, was filed in common pleas court Saturday against William Turner, et al., by Attorneys Fitzgibbon, Montgomery & Black, on behalf of Loretta Turner.

Marriage Licenses.
Andran A. Nicu, 23, machinist, Newark, and Elena G. Anghelache, 21, Newark. Rev. Julius Holder to officiate.

Cases Assigned.
Judge T. B. Fulton and members of the Licking county bar Saturday morning made out the assignment of civil cases for trial this term. There are forty-eight cases listed for trial from Nov. 12 to Dec. 17, inclusive.

Commissioners Busy Day.
County commissioners Saturday were busy winding up details of the big pipe and bridge bond issue as the final step toward getting the money in the treasury. The bond contracts were signed, for an issue of $140,000 as this county's share of the coast to coast national pipe, which passes through the southern part of the county, and for considerable bridge repair work, most of which was occasioned by floods.

Common Pleas Court.
Ray Penick, who pleaded guilty to non-support of his minor child, was sentenced by Judge Fulton Saturday to pay a monthly allowance of $15 for the child's support and to furnish bond in the sum of $500 for faithful performance of the court's order.

Raymond Smoots, who pleaded guilty to stealing brass lubricators from the B. & O. railroad, was let down by Judge Fulton Saturday with a jail sentence of thirty days, which the court agreed to suspend during the defendant's future good behavior. Smoots has already served 193 days in jail.

In the case of John B. Hodges vs. the Johnstown Water and Light Co. an order was made approving the receiver's account and discharging the receiver.

RETURNS HOME AFTER READING OWN OBITUARY

ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM
Sharon, Pa., Nov. 2.—The body of a man killed by a train here three weeks ago was identified by Mrs. William McGonnell as that of her husband and was interred in a Youngstown, Ohio, cemetery. Yesterday while Mrs. McGonnell and her children were at dinner, McGonnell walked in. He said he had been in Ohio searching for work and returned home when he read his "death notice" in a newspaper. The identity of the man buried as McGonnell has not been determined.

FOR MISS WILSON'S PRESENT.
Washington, Nov. 2.—A subscription list for the purchase of a wedding present for Miss Jessie Wilson was circulated among senators today by Senator Martine of New Jersey. It was expected that about $1,000 would be raised.

Our navy has gone to Europe to impress the governments over there that our policy toward Mexico is the correct one.

"CASCARETS" FOR LIVER-HEADACHE

Millions, throbbing headache means Bowels are clogged, liver stagnant and stomach sour and gassy.

Get a 10-cent box now. You're bilious! You have a throbbing sensation in your head, a bad taste in your mouth, your eyes burn, your skin is yellow, with dark rings under your eyes; you tips are parched. No wonder you feel ugly, mean and ill-tempered. Your system is full of bile and not properly passed off, and what you need is a cleaning up, inside. Don't continue being a bilious nuisance to yourself and those who love you, and don't resort to harsh physics that irritate and injure. Remember that most disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are cured by morning with gentle, thorough Cascarets—they work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet, and your head clear for months. Children love to take Cascarets, because they taste good and never gripe or sicken.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the Board of Directors will be held at the building next Thursday evening, November 13. Meet for lunch at 6:00 o'clock.

The executive committee of the C. M. U. met at the building Tuesday evening and transacted the regular business of the organization. Judge Samuel L. Black will be the speaker at next Sunday's meeting and Dr. J. Knox-Montgomery on Nov. 23.

The Junior Board of Trade, under the direction of Prof. H. J. Dickerson, met at the building on Thursday evening, Nov. 6. There were about seventy-five boys present.

The lunch counter is open from 11 a. m. to 1 p. m. and from 4:30 p. m. to 7 p. m. Members and friends of the association should patronize it. Everything is good and well cooked.

The shop meetings at the B. and O. and Heiser's were addressed by Rev. Don D. Tullis and Rev. C. G. Hazlett. Junia Sells and Ruth Kastla assisted with the music. The total attendance was 115.

Member Herschel Stephan will attend the Boys' Conference to be held at Fostoria Nov. 28-30. He will preside at one of the sessions. Other delegates will represent the Newark Association.

A card from Member Harold Lamp, who recently went to Washington, D. C., to work, says: "Thanks for your letter of introduction. I was treated royally at the 'Y' here."

Member C. C. Fory left Thursday for Texas, where he expects to practice law. Our hearty good wishes go with him.

Five young men have joined the class in English for foreigners. Others may join at any time.

The World's Week of Prayer for young men begins Sunday, Nov. 9. The association will observe it with a meeting in the Boys' room each day at 12 o'clock. All members and friends are urged to meet for prayer at this hour.

Saved His Foot.
H. D. Ely, of Bantam, O., suffered from horrible ulcer on his foot for four years. Doctor advised amputation, but he refused and reluctantly tried Bucklen's Arnica. Salve as a last resort. He then wrote: "I used your salve and my foot was soon completely cured." Best remedy for burns, cuts, bruises and eczema. Get a box today. Only 25c. All druggists or by mail, H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.

We will soon be able to tell whether the new tariff law will make for a cheaper Thanksgiving dinner.

Hints to Advertisers

By HOLLAND.

THE man who prepares a copy for a printer, whether it is a reading notice or an advertisement, should remember a few essentials. Typewriter copy is better than that made with a pen or pencil. But if you must use a pencil write as plainly as possible. Do not crowd your words together. Leave plenty of space at the top and bottom of the page and between lines. Paper is cheaper than a man's time deciphering illegible writing. WRITE ONLY ON ONE SIDE OF THE PAPER, and if you use more than one sheet number the pages. Remember that some man must read what you are writing and that he does not know what you mean to say and must be guided by what you do say. Write your copy as plainly as you would like to have the other man write it if you had to put it in type. Designate the lines that you want displayed and do not expect extra large type in a small space.

The editor of this paper knows something about advertising and a good deal about the typographical art. He will be glad to have you consult him about preparing your copy. The advice he offers will be free and honest. And you don't need to follow it unless it seems sound to you.

HANDICAPS OF PRIVATE EXECUTORS

An individual acting as executor is generally handicapped by lack of experience and practically always by lack of time. Moreover, in addition to these handicaps there is the inevitable fact that the individual may die before his duties have been completed.

This company brings to its service as executor broad experience and perpetual existence. Moreover, it has deposited with the treasurer of the state a large amount of bonds as a guarantee for the faithful performance of trust duties.
